

DO YOU GET UP

WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

A good everybody who reads the newspaper is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century, discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing a lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid trouble, and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Inc., 1010 Broadway, New York, N. Y. The regular fifty cent and dollar sizes are sold by all good druggists.

The Christianity of McKinley.

Senator Hoar, of Massachusetts, is one of the most tolerant, gifted and talented men in the United States senate.

He is a member of the Unitarian church.

This body of Christians held a conference at Saratoga, in the state of New York, not long ago.

Senator Hoar attended the conference.

In the course of his address he referred to the remarkable unanimity of the recognition of President McKinley's character as representative of the true Christian life.

He said:

Men of all Christian sects are taking this occasion to declare what it is that makes the true Christian, what sort of example men ought to imitate and what entitles them to the favor of God. We hear nothing of Athanasian creeds, of the five points of Calvinism, or Unitarian statements of faith, or church covenants, or decrees of councils, but Catholic and Protestant, Calvinist and Presbyterian, Universalist and Unitarian, Methodist and Episcopalian, speaking by their most trusted representatives and their highest authorities, declare that this man's life was Christian, and that this man's faith was Christianity.

Does this mean that there will be a revision of creeds, and that the Catholic church and the Episcopal church, and other churches, will recognize Methodists and Baptists, and all other denominations, as members of the true church and entitled to the favor and benediction of the Master?

And how about him who is confused by the multiplicity of creeds belongs to no church but scatters seeds of kindness along life's pathway?

A Valuable Medicine For Coughs and Colds in Children.

I have not the slightest hesitancy in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to all who are suffering from coughs or colds," says a Mrs. M. Cramer, a well known watch maker of Colombo, Ceylon. "It has been some two years since the City Dispensary first called my attention to this valuable medicine, and I have repeatedly used it and it has always been beneficial. It has cured me quickly of all chest colds. It is especially effective for children and seldom takes more than one bottle to cure them of hoarseness. I have persuaded many to try this valuable medicine, and they are all as well pleased as myself over the results." For sale by Anti-Monopoly Drug Store.

After Mr. Madden.

The National Editorial Association, which is holding a session at Hot Springs, Ark., opened its discussion last Friday over the recent ruling of Third Assistant Postmaster General Madden, and several caustic criticisms followed before harmony was restored.

The discussion arose after a paper had been read by W. H. Tuttle of Chicago, attorney for the National Publishers' Bureau, on "The Postal Laws." Mr. Tuttle severely arraigned Third Assistant Postmaster General Madden on account of the rulings he has recently made with regard to the mailing of certain classes of publications.

As Mr. Tuttle resumed his seat Mr. Avery, of Idaho, took the floor and made a motion for the convention to pass a resolution requesting congress to investigate the acts of the third assistant postmaster general, and take summary action.

A Chattanooga Druggist's Statement.

Robt. J. Miller, proprietor of the Read House Drug Store, of Chattanooga, Tenn., writes: "There is more merit in Foley's Honey and Tar than in any other cough syrup. The calls for it multiply wonderfully and we sell more of it than than all other cough syrups combined." Sold by Anti-Monopoly Drug Store.

Easter Parable of the Beautiful Flower.

Once in a sheltered garden there bloomed a beautiful flower, so sweet and pure that the south wind forsook all other spots to whisper ceaselessly soft words of love.

But one day the flower faded, nor could the south wind, with warm kisses, revive its drooping head.

Then came the gardener through his garden, who, seeing the dying flower, plucked it from its stem and tearing out its golden heart, buried it deep in the black earth.

"Cruel, cruel man!" shrieked the south wind, because it understood not.

All winter long the cold, white snow lay on the heart of the flower, and over it the south wind sobbed its rage at the pitiless gardener.

But when the spring came, behold! the flower arose more beautiful than before.

And the southwind, understanding, kissed the bronze cheek of the gardener in joyous penitence.

For kind of heart is the gardener of the universe, though man, foolish and fickle as the south wind, understands him not, and as one who loves all growing things, will stoop to brush a little blemish from the humblest flower, so stoops he to remove the smallest sorrow from the tiniest blossom in his great garden of light-petalled stars.

But look! the Savior blest, Calm, after solemn rest.

Ocala Beats Anthony.

An interesting game of base ball was played yesterday afternoon between the "Ocala Juniors" and the "Anthonys."

Those comprising the Ocala team were: Vogt, p; John Sullivan, c; Harry Bullock, 1st b; John Pelot, 2nd b; Oscar Roller, 1st f; Frank Gates, 1st f; Royal Cole, c, f; Will Frierson, 3rd b; John Juhan, s. s.

The Anthony players: Stewart, c; Neil, p; Spencer, s. s.; Swindle, 1st b; Fulton, r. f.; Hamilton, 2nd b; Kelly, 3rd b; Lovell, c. f.; Perry, 1st f.

The score stood six to four in favor of the Juniors.

The contest was very close and up to the fifth inning, neither side had made a score.

The Juniors expect to meet the Anthonys on their own diamond on May 3rd.

Professor Van Brunt went up as the Junior's mascot.

Our Burial Customs.

There was recently a convention of undertakers at Boston, Mass.

The feature of the meeting was an address by Rev. G. W. Bicknell, a Universalist divine of some distinction. His subject was, "Funeral Reform."

The following are some of the "reforms" he suggested:

"Our customs are too gloomy. We can learn the lessons much more effectively in the light than in the darkness. I believe people should be educated to a conception of better things. Somber emblems of mourning, in the light of Christianity, should long ago have given way to white, if any change is required, which I do not believe.

I have little sympathy for outward manifestation. One mourns deeply the first year, much less the second, and a little the third—that is the usual rate of advertisement. The close drawn curtains, every ray of sunshine being excluded, the heavy draperies, the slow, measured step, the methods of constantly announcing a calamity to the bereaved, are all against the true spirit of death. Angels of comfort do not come in the dark.

"All such measures for preserving the body, such as embalming (unless for valid reasons and for a short trip), air-tight and metallic caskets, or heavy wooden ones, should be abolished. The more perishable the casket the better. Don't cheat mother earth out of her own.

"The time is passed when the funeral service is a time for theological discussion. A long, elaborate service, except upon some special occasion, seems to me in bad taste.

"It makes no difference what the weather may be, showery, hot, or zero cold, a dozen spans of horses, more or less, with their drivers must, under the circumstances, stand outside an hour—a cruelty to animals and a needless exposure for men. There should be a time of service, known to the undertaker, that the drivers might be told when to be in attendance.

"More religion is sworn out of impatient drivers in one hour than a dozen ministers could preach into them in a week. I would go further, and omit the procession to the grave. The loved form could be given to trusted friends and placed away. No part as at the grave. What place so appropriate for the final 'good-bye' as in the home?"

Wanted to be Buried in His Old Clothes.

Judge Frederick Stump, of Maryland, recently died and was buried, but not as other men.

He wrote his own will, and, among other directions, it contained the following:

"Disgusted with the foolish display almost universally made at funerals, to the great gain of undertakers and to the deprivation of many families of even the necessities of life for a long time thereafter, I hereby direct that I be buried in a white pine coffin (because the wood decays more rapidly underground than any other I know of), without any stain, paint, covering or other emblems of woe on it.

"I direct that no embalming fluid or other stuff shall be injected into my body, and that no funeral sermon shall be preached over it, and that I be buried in a suit of clothes I have worn, as I do not see the sense of wearing old clothes when alive and being buried in a new suit when it is of no use to you. I desire that my executor see that all my wishes are fully carried out."

No Place Like Florida.

The Punta Gorda Herald scouts the idea that men and women cannot find profitable employment and make a good living in Florida, and recites the fact that in South Florida a man who can plow and hoe can get $20 to $30 a month in the orange groves, pineapple and vegetable farms. He can also earn the same on fishing boats, freight schooners and steamers, or he can get $1 to $1.50 a day loading and unloading boats and cars or helping build houses of various kinds. In a little while he may learn to pack fruit and vegetables, which pays anywhere from $1.50 to $3 per day, according to skill and rapidity. Even as a cook, and an ordinary one at that, he can get $15 or $20 a month, besides his feed and lodging. Negro women make $1 a day and upwards washing clothes, and do not exert themselves at all. In fact, there is a demand for all kinds of labor.

Is there any other section of the country offering better inducements for labor? Everybody can find plenty to do in Florida, if they wish to. No starving or want where there is energy or industry. There is a chance for all except the lazy and dissolute.—Braidenton Herald.

At the Ocala High School Yesterday Afternoon.

There were debates at the Ocala High School yesterday afternoon in both the Grammar school and High school departments, which proved very interesting to the scholars and the visitors.

In the Grammar school the subject of debate was, Resolved, That half an education is worse than none. The negative side won.

In the High school the subject was, Resolved, That text books should be supplied to indigent pupils. The affirmative side won. The papers were all interesting.

The two departments were then thrown into one and Rev. L. B. Warren delighted the scholars with a happy and timely address, and made it practical by the offer of the medal upon the conditions already named in this paper.

Clock Golf Contest.

The third clock golf contest took place on the links last Friday afternoon. This contest was for the gentlemen, being gotten up for them by the lady members of the club.

There were twenty-four participants, each one going around the entire face of the clock. Mr. David S. Williams won the first prize with a score of 24, while Mr. L. R. Chazal and Mr. Charles H. Lloyd tied for the second, each having a score of 25. Phil Robinson made a score of 26, being the best score made of any of the boys who entered the contest.

Tea and lady fingers were very graciously served by some of Ocala's most charming ladies, and the afternoon was most delightfully spent.
